

The Grootfontein Agricultural Development Institute (GADI) is hosting its third annual Small Stock Scientific Symposium.

The objective of this one-day event is to provide a platform for people involved in small-stock research in the arid and semi-arid regions of South Africa to present information and to interact with people involved in the small stock industry.

GADI invites you and your colleagues to attend or make a presentation at this symposium, which will be held on 8 November 2012 at Grootfontein; please see the registration form below.

For those wishing to present a talk, papers relating to rangeland management, animal production, and the economics of small-stock enterprises are relevant. A time of 15 minutes will be available to speakers (e.g. a 10 minute talk followed by 5 minutes of questions).

The program will be distributed shortly. There will be a charge of R80 per person. We hope that you will be able to attend.

For further enquiries, please contact Justin du Toit at justindt@daff.gov.za.

Grootfontein Small Stock Science Symposium

Title (Prof, Dr, Mr, Ms, etc)	_____	First Name	_____
Surname	_____
Institution	_____
Postal Address	_____
		Code	_____
Telephone no.	_____	E-mail	_____
Dietary options (standard* or vegetarian – please state) _____
*Standard lunch includes a meat dish (beef and/or lamb), with starch and vegetables
 Vegetarian lunch includes a vegetarian dish, with starch and vegetables
(Owing to budgetary limitations, we regret that further options are not available)
If you wish to make a presentation, please fill in details below
Title (by 10 October 2012)
Abstract (Include here, or submit by 24 October 2012)			